

Riken Vitamin USA to Relocate Office to Texas

Riken Vitamin Co., Ltd. (Headquarters: Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo; President: Tsutomu Mochizuki) will relocate the office of its North American sales and development subsidiary, Riken Vitamin USA, Inc., from California to Texas in the first quarter of FY2026 (April 1 – June 30, 2026).

Riken Vitamin USA, Inc. was established in Illinois in 2004 and subsequently moved to California in 2015 to expand its sales of extract products. The company currently supplies food-improving agents and food products—including pork extract—throughout North and South America. In 2024, an application center equipped with bakery application facilities was established within the office to further strengthen proposals for food-improving agents in the bakery sector.

To accelerate business growth in North America, it is essential not only to deepen relationships with existing customers but also to acquire new customers in the Eastern and Midwestern United States. In line with this strategy, we have decided to relocate Riken Vitamin USA’s office to Texas, which offers improved access to key target regions as well as logistical and sales advantages for both food-improving agents and extract products.

Under our medium- to long-term vision, “Achieving growth by supporting a sustainable society with specialty products and services,” we aim to reinforce our global presence by expanding overseas sales, with a particular focus on food-improving agents.
